

Roll-Up of Training Assessment Core Issues

CAPT Bruce Russell

Break Out Team Issues

- Description: 02T01 Though the Joint staff sets policy and guidance for training assessment, they lack authority for enforcement (combatant commands/CSAs work for SECDEF not CJCS). (Break Out Team 1 only)
- Description: 02T02 The assessment phase of the JTS is not effectively linked with the planning phase thereby restricting meaningful and responsive change to the planning phase of the JTS.
- Description: 02T03 Centralized management of joint training resources (assistance and support) is an impediment to full implementation of the JTS.

Break Out Team Issues

- Description: 02T04 Current training assessment processes seem reasonable on paper but prove unworkable in practice. Processes are time consuming, seemingly redundant, resource intensive, and fail to adequately support command/CSA needs.
- Description: 02T05 Should the combatant commanders brief the SECDEF on JMETL assessment in accordance with DOTMLPF? (Break Out Team 1 only)
- Description: 02T06 Some combatant commands train and assesses headquarters not forces. A process needs to be developed to enable the combatant commands to assess readiness (roll up of force readiness prior to combatant command assessment). JMETLs need to be linked to components.
